

HOW TO ACT DURING AN ALERT

- The Homefront Command's Guidelines -

In the Arava, if a siren was to sound, you will have 1.5 minutes to reach a shelter and then must wait there for 10 minutes. This can prevent injuries resulting from rocket or missile hits, and may even save your life.

During an alert, enter a Secure Space (shelter)

WHAT IS A SECURE SPACE?

1. A shelter (Mamad in hebrew) within a house or buliding
2. A public bomb shelter - there is at least one in every moshav or kibbutz
3. In the interior stairwell of a buliding
4. In a room with no outside walls

WHAT TO DO DURING AN ALERT

<h3>During transit</h3> Stop on the side of the road Exit from the vehicles Go inside the closest building Lie down - If you can't - lie on the ground and protect your head with your hand 	<h3>In a building</h3> Go inside the Mamad/Mamak/Shelter Close the windows Lock the door
<h3>On public transport</h3> on city bus Exit and enter the closest building On intercity buses and the train Duck under the window line and protect your head with your hands 	<h3>Outside</h3> In a built - up area: Enter the closest building In an open area: Lie on the ground and protect your head with your hands
<h2>Wait 10 minutes!</h2>	